1. It is required that Figure 3 be labeled "prior art".
2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because claim format is improper for an abstract. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

4. It is improper to base the specification on the claims as at page 3, lines 24-26.
5. The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claims 1-8 have been renumbered 9-16.

6. Claims 9-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not clear what all the claimed elements are and it is not clear how they are interconnected and interrelated to produce the desired results.

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

8. (e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371© of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIA (pre-AIA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Art Unit: 2829

9. Claims 9-14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being fully anticipated by Mizumoto et al.

Mizumoto et al has an edge triggered flip-flop 12, a comparator 11, an energy storing element 6, a resistor 10 in series with the energy storing element 6 where the element 6 is in the transverse arm of a bridge and the bridge has switches 4u, 4v, 5u and 5v driven by the flip-flop 12 <sup>in</sup> ~~is~~ the manner claimed by applicants. With regard to claim 10 any inductor has resistance. With regard to claim 11 any coil is a magnetic field probe. With regard to claim 16 any inductor can be considered an inductor in series with a resistor.

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mizumoto et al in view of Mittel et al.

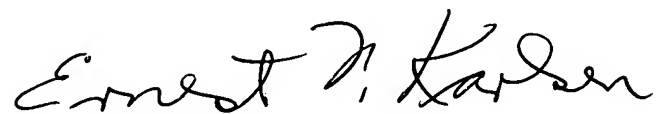

Mizumoto et al was discussed above but does not show MOSFETs. Mittel et al shows the use of MOSFETs in the environment of Mizumoto et al. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have adapted the MOSFET feature of Mittel et al to the apparatus of Mizumoto et al because one skilled in the art would realize that so doing would enable the apparatus of Mizumoto et al to provide more accurate switching.

Art Unit: 2829

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Maire, Rossi et al, Schulz et al, Bilotti et al and Boll et al are cited to show additional apparatus similar to that of Mizumoto et al.
